Jobs to Bhopal Gas Victims

4867. SHRI SURESH PACHOURI : Will the Minister of CHEMICALS AND FERTILIZERS be pleased to state :

(a) whether a special Industrial area was declared by the Central Government to provide jobs to Bhopal gas victims;

(b) if so, whether the Central Government have agreed to provide Rs. 14 crores for implementing the scheme;

(c) whether the Madhya Pradesh Government had prepared 300 sheds for the purpose;

(d) whether the Scheme could not be implemented because the Centre did not provide the promised amount;

(e) if so, what were the main reasons for not providing the Central assistance so far; and

(f) whether the State Government has been urging the Union Government to provide assistance as they had already invested crores of rupees for preparing sheds ?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF CHEMICALS AND FERTILIZERS (SHRI EDUARDO FALEIRO): (a) to (f) A five year action plan for providing relief and rehabilitation to the Bhopal gas leak disaster victims is under implementation from 1-4-90. While approving the plan, the Government decided that individual based schemes such as providing ex-gratia relief etc. should not be included since all the affected persons would individually get compensation. Therefore, the emphasis should be on community based schemes for improving medical and health care, living conditions and providing facilities for vocational training. For this purpose, the Government of Madhya Pradesh submitted a seven year action plan, which included development of special industrial area as part of economic rehabilitation.

The proposal of setting up a special industrial area was not approved since it did not satisfy the criteria mentioned earlier. The State Government has now informed that it is implementing the schame on its own and has constructed 152 sheds to provide employment to the gas victims.
